the 15th july 1889 was a busy day on the isle of arran as it was fair monday a number of visitors opted to climb goatfell though many were put off by the cloud lingering on the summit it seemed a day like any other but that evening there would be an tragic event which would lead to one of the biggest man hunts in scottish criminal history as well as a sensational murder trial two of the people who set out to climb the mountain that afternoon were john watson laurie a 28 year old pattern maker from coatbridge and edwin robert rose a 32 year old clerk from london they had met three days previously on the excursion steamer ivanhoe rose s battered body the face terribly mangled was found three weeks later concealed under a boulder on a remote part of the mountain the discovery sparked a huge search for laurie who was subsequently arrested for rose s murder after two months on the run when captured he attempted suicide with a cut throat razor then stated i robbed the man but i did not murder him this is the story of the goatfell tragedy and its aftermath described by the glasgow herald as the most remarkable tale of crime and retribution in the annals of scottish judicial history there have been doubts raised about certain features of alec watson s 1844 1920 life story firstly about the date and place of his birth investigation into the former confirmed the date generally accepted but enquiries into the latter threw up a number of problems the author s enquiries suggest a place of birth not even mentioned before secondly there were certainly doubts about the legality of watson s bowling action was he a chucker the author considers the arguments and sources about this and suggests what he hopes is a fair conclusion there were no doubts about watson s success the facts and figures contained herein speak for themselves nor is there any doubt about his successful career on the fringes of cricket as groundsman at old trafford as a cricket coach to clubs and schools and as a progressive sports outfitter with three shops in central manchester and a big house on its outskirts truly a life in cricket
